Joseph was Jacob's favourite son.

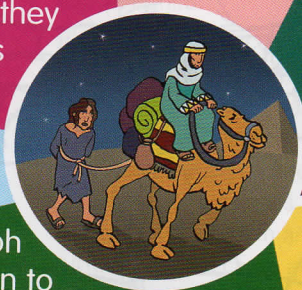

Jacob gave Joseph a special coat.

Joseph told his family about his dreams.

Joseph's brothers were jealous. They wanted to kill him.

One brother didn't want to kill Joseph, so they sold him as a slave.

Joseph was taken to Egypt, where he became the servant of a man called Potiphar.

Joseph was sent to prison because Potiphar's wife lied about him.

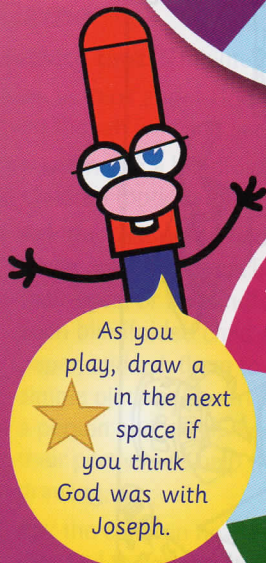

In prison, God helped Joseph interpret the dreams of some other prisoners.

Then God helped Joseph to interpret the king's dream – there was going to be a famine.

The king made Joseph governor of all of Egypt.

Even though not everything for Joseph and his family was happy, God had a plan for them.

As you play, draw a star in the next space if you think God was with Joseph.
